

ELO Digital Office USA Announces Axioma Selects ELOprofessional for Enterprise Content Management

Leading provider of enterprise risk management solutions and financial analytics will leverage ELO for their document management

Boston, MA – November 1, 2017 -- ELO Digital Office USA, enabling businesses to improve collaboration and streamline information management in a digital economy, announced today that Axioma, a leading provider of enterprise risk management solutions, is implementing ELOprofessional as a component of its content management initiatives. Financial institutions worldwide use Axioma solutions to unify their view of risk across front, middle and back office functions. ELOprofessional will enable Axioma to digitize and classify existing and incoming documents, regardless of format or input channel, and forward them to a downstream business process. ELOprofessional, part of a suite of content and document management solutions from ELO Digital Office, is available through the ELO Business Partner network and was sold to Axioma by ELO partner Ovitas, Inc. (Burlington, MA).

“We offer our clients, who are among the world’s top financial firms, the most comprehensive suite of risk management and performance attribution software on the market,” notes Michael Schnell, manager of documentation and training at Axioma. “To better serve our clients and help advance our product suite, we wanted to synchronize our content development efforts on a system that would address our current needs and serve us well into the future.” Axioma will implement ELOprofessional worldwide for software development.

Comprehensive – Quick Time-to-Value ECM

ELOprofessional is an advanced modular client-server solution that offers the full benefits of an ECM infrastructure environment including extensive configuration options, scalability, and automated business processes as well as options for real-time data analysis, innovative search technology, and automated processes.

With a modern interface and familiar-looking filing system, ELOprofessional drives quick user adoption and fast time-to-value. The system's comprehensive offerings include capabilities for:

- Information capture – both digital and paper-based for on-demand access
- Email archiving to ensure emails and attachments are linked to processes
- Electronic, rules-based workflows to standardize business operations and process automation
- Document versioning for structured and secure collaboration
- Integration with leading applications for ERP, CRM, CAD, email, and Microsoft® office products
- Collaboration tools for enhanced team coordination, communication, and productivity
- End-to-end automation for improved business transparency

“Axioma is representative of the many forward-thinking companies that recognize digital content management is no longer a nice-to-have but a must-have,” says Szilvia Horvath, CEO of ELO Digital Office USA. “And, we are delighted that they selected ELOprofessional as their ECM platform. Moreover, Axioma’s decision to purchase ELO demonstrates the strength of our growing partner network in the United States.”
